

PRECISION ORTHOPEDICS

Discover the Cotswold Knee and Hip Clinic in Broadway, delivering specialist knee and hip care with a focus on performance and individual outcomes

A new benchmark in specialist orthopaedic care has arrived in the Cotswolds. The Cotswold Knee and Hip Clinic, led by consultant orthopaedic surgeon Mr Nadim Aslam, offers an exceptional refined, patient-centred service, dedicated exclusively to knee and hip conditions.

Based within the prestigious New Barn Close Surgery in Broadway, the clinic provides direct access to trusted expert assessment and treatment in a discreet, professional setting. Designed around the needs of highly discerning patients, the service combines clinical excellence with a consistently seamless, concierge-style experience carefully delivered by Katie Davies.

Mr Aslam is an Oxford fellowship-trained expert orthopaedic surgeon with a specialist focus on knee and hip surgery. His expertise spans the full spectrum of care from knee sports injuries and soft tissue problems to complex arthritis and joint degeneration. He is recognised for his work in advanced robotic-assisted joint replacement, delivering enhanced precision, alignment, and recovery outcomes; being the number one robotic knee and hip surgeon in the UK for private practice with Mako robotic surgery.

However, individual care is not defined by surgery alone. A core philosophy of the clinic is delivering the measured right treatment at the right time. Many conditions can be effectively managed without surgery through tailored rehabilitation, injection therapies, and evidence-based guidance, which we offer a full range of.

Patients benefit from a comprehensive approach including clear detailed clinical assessment, imaging advice, and fully personalised treatment plans. Whether ongoing returning to sport, maintaining an active lifestyle, or addressing established long-standing joint pain, the focus is always on restoring confidence, movement, and quality of life.

We warmly invite you to arrange a private consultation without the need for a prior GP referral, allowing you to take the first step at a time that suits you. Our dedicated bookings team is on hand to offer guidance and support from the outset, guiding you through every detail, ensuring a smooth and personalised journey from initial enquiry to your final decision with care, ensuring your experience feels straightforward, reassuring and entirely centred around your individual needs.
